EBP evaluates local and regional economic impacts and opportunities, the performance of economic development programs, and returns from new policies and investment projects.

Our subject matter expertise and analytic capabilities span a range of topics including:

1. Local and regional economic evaluation, forecasting and modeling
2. Community development incentives and finance,
3. Economic development investment and strategy,
4. Workforce and human capital development,
5. New technology adoption.

Our public sector clients use our research to evaluate programs and make critical public policy decisions that affect regional economic prosperity and inclusion. Our private sector clients use our research to assess their impact on local and regional economic development. We support decision-making at all levels of government and across different types of organizations - including chambers of commerce, revenue departments, economic development agencies, industry associations and private companies.
