Community Choice Energy Aggregation in Contra Costa County

Client

Contra Costa County

Facts

Period	2016
Project Country	United States

EDR Group (now EBP) was part of a team commissioned by Contra Costa County (CA) and a group of 14 cities to conduct a technical study of Community Choice Energy (CCE) in Contra Costa County. The county is exploring the potential of establishing CCE.

EBP provided a job analysis related to the proposed implementation of a CCE program for county energy consumers who are not participating in an existing and adjacent program (Marin Clean Energy). The firm also examined a forecast of economic impacts from implied electric 'generation' rate differences between PG&E's forecast rate schedule and those that could be offered under different CCE objectives - such as the trade-off between rate minimization for customers or investing in new local solar projects (whether owned or leased) using CCE revenues.

Contact Persons