

Strategic Transportation Investments for Economic Development: Making the Connection Work for You

Client

International Economic Development Council
(IEDC)

Facts

Period 2017

Project Country United States

“Strategic Transportation Investments for Economic Development: Making the Connection Work for You” by Glen Weisbrod. Economic Development Journal, v.16, n1, International Economic Development Council, 2017.

The April 2017 issue of the Economic Development Journal features the article “Strategic Transportation Investments for Economic Development: Making the Connection Work for You” by Glen Weisbrod of EBP (formerly EDR Group). The article focuses on how business and economic development interests are interacting with transportation planners in new ways as transformational changes are unfolding in technology, trade, and workforce requirements.

The magazine issue can be found at www.iedconline.org/web-pages/resources-publications/economic-development-journal-winter-2017. IEDC members can download and read the article from that site.

Economic Development Journal is published quarterly by the International Economic Development Council, www.iedconline.org.

Contact Persons